In the 21-22 academic year, the College developed a systematic and comprehensive cycle of program review for key student success programs in Advising and Student Life, including identifying objectives, indicators, and thresholds for Student Learning Outcomes assessments within these programs. The College is systematically embedding the results of Program Review for the student support programs into the operational planning process.	Not applicable at this time. Program review process includes analysis of program data in Summer 2022. This data will be used to develop potential activities and services to improve Student Service Learning Outcomes in Fall 2022 for consideration to be funded in the 2023-25 Operational Plan.
